MSUVOTE INTITIATIVE ANALYSIS

The MSUvote Initiative was highly committed to getting out the vote, reducing barriers to registration, and supporting all educational initiatives. The Initiative was successful in providing capacity for events, ideas, and in collaborating to address barriers to voting on campus.

The Intitiative will be further refined with the addition of subcommittees for faculty/staff, students, and community members. Some meetings will engage all members and others will be devoted to small group collaborations.

MSUvote collaborated with Campus Vote Project, the Michigan Secretary of State office, and county clerks in the community. These partners supported the hosting of the statewide voting summit, access to voting, and promotion of voting to students.

Students supported the campus plan and assisted in its development by providing feedback and offering new ideas on where students best receive information.

Beyond 2022, the Intitiative will continue to be run by co-directors, Renee Brown and Suchitra Webster with the support of Erin Kramer, MSU Democratic Engagement Coordinator.

GOAL OVERVIEW & PROGRESS

Leadership Goals for 2022-2024

- 1. Recruit representatives from each college, key departments, and diverse student groups to join the Initiative
 - a. In Progress. MSUvote recruited a number of students to join the Initiative this year. Looking forward, with the increased capacity of a full-time staff member, MSUvote is designing intentional approaches and processes to encourage increased membership and participation in the Initiative.
- 2. Establish an Executive Committee of University Leaders (Deans, Assistant/Associate Vice Presidents, Provosts, and Board of Trustee Member.) to assure institutional guidance, support, resources, and staffing for these efforts
 - a. In Progress. Full-time staff member, Erin Kramer, is making conscious efforts towards connecting with these stakeholders.
- 3. Develop a subcommittee structure to support the goals of this plan in an effort to better engage Initiative members and build a network of leaders for future iterations of MSUvote.
 - a. In Progress. The subcommittee structure will be launched in the Spring Semester of 2023.
- 4. Invite additional clerk's offices (for communities beyond East Lansing) to join the Initiative
 - a. In Progress. Connections are being forged with adjacent clerks' offices. Community spaces frequented by off-campus students are also being examined as potential satellite areas for engagement.

Major Goals of 2022

1. Secure funding for a full-time democratic engagement coordinator beginning with the 2022-2023 academic year
 - a. Goal Accomplished. Erin Kramer, MSW was hired as the full-time democratic engagement coordinator housed in Student & Community Relations and the Center for Community Engaged Learning in October 2022. Her work will continue in this role in the coming years.
2. Secure institutional funding for annual operating expenses and programming beginning with the 2022-2023 academic year
 - a. Goal Accomplished. MSUvote is grateful to have institutional funding through Student Life and Engagement.
3. Host the 2022 Michigan Student Voter Summit with CVP and other state partners on the campus
 - a. Goal Accomplished. MSUvote hosted the 2022 Michigan Student Voter Summit with Campus Vote Project and the Michigan Secretary of State's office on September 30th.

Secondary Goals

1. Establish Civic Holidays on campus as a tradition supported by and promoted across campus each year
 - a. In Progress: Continued advocacy of this goal has occurred, and ASMSU has strived to bring this to fruition. With the addition of early voting days to Michigan's voting laws, there may be increased flexibility even without the approval of Election Day as a Holiday.
2. Establish a campus expectation, set by the President and the Provost, that voter education must be included in all courses and programs with resource materials and support
 - a. In Progress: Creation of a faculty toolkit has been completed, this creates ease of education for faculty members. Advocacy with the President and Provost is an ongoing process.
3. Establish voter registration practices in units/programs/procedures that impact the greatest number of students each year. Some examples include: new student orientation, student ID office, library registration/checkout, fall welcome, athletic events, and including banners on student learning platforms
 - a. In Progress: With increased capacity, initiatives and planning relating to the establishment of voter registration practices are occurring.

Secondary Goals

4. Further formalize Initiative and committee structures, including:

a. Seek representation from each college

- i. In Progress: with the increased capacity of a full-time staff member, we are striving to generate connections with the colleges on campus. Currently, MSUvote has a variety of students and faculty from all disciplines. Representation gaps lie in the Colleges of Engineering, Agriculture & Natural Resources, and Arts & Humanities.

b. Seek representation from Multicultural Student Organizations

- i. In Progress: promotion and connection building with multicultural student organizations is an ongoing process with an eye towards student recruitment.

c. Seek representation from student faith organizations

- i. In Progress: MSUvote integrated Hillel this semester and will continue to recruit more representation from multiple faith-based organizations

d. Establish Subcommittees and Subcommittee Leaders to strengthen the MSUvote Initiative efforts and further plan for succession

- i. Goal Accomplished: MSUvote held multiple subcommittees for the events this year as a pilot. Moving forward, MSUvote is formalizing these committees further.

e. Establish a strategic approach to increasing student voting rates from among identity groups and particular disciplines reported to vote at lower rates as consistently reported in the NSLVE

- i. In Progress: Newly hired- Democratic Engagement Coordinator has begun conversations with STEM disciplines to explore promotional opportunities.

ANALYSIS OF WORK

MSUvote has analyzed our efforts of participation and accessibility based on the NASPA's four pillars of the democratic engagement plan, voter registration, education, turnout, and student voting rights. Turnout is difficult to assess as we do not yet have our 2022 NSLVE data.

Voter Registration:

Michigan State University was happy to host the East Lansing City Clerk's Office for four weeks leading up to the Election. Spartans were able to visit one of the four rotating locations to register leading up to Election Day. Students utilized these satellite offices, and on Election Day a large number of students took advantage of same-day registration at the on-campus Brody precinct. The numbers on how many students registered to vote will be available with NSLV data.

Voter Education:

MSUvote amplified via social media (and having other MSU organizations share social media) information about MSUvote's website where resources and links to the nonpartisan ballot information site vote411.org were provided. At all hosted events, tabling events, presentations, and flyering, nonpartisan information was provided. See the activities section of this report for expanded details.

Voter Turnout:

Students were encouraged to vote on Election Day by our numerous social media posts, email messaging from the Associate Provost of Undergraduate Education on Election Day, messaging from the president, and optional rides for students who needed to register to vote or re-register on Election Day

Student Voting Rights:

Out of state students received ample information about being able to re-register in Michigan for the election. The MSUvote website, tabling events, and social media feeds were employed in this effort. Providing students with on-campus, easy access to the registration/clerks office offered ease of access for students who lived in East Lansing.

While on-campus satellite offices are a major success. There were some hurdles. For instance, students who live in Bath Township lack easy transportation to clerk's offices as public transport is limited. We do not yet have data on how many students achieved full voter participation however, a major success was a consistent engagement at the satellite offices and heavy registration traffic on Election Day.

SUCCESSSES

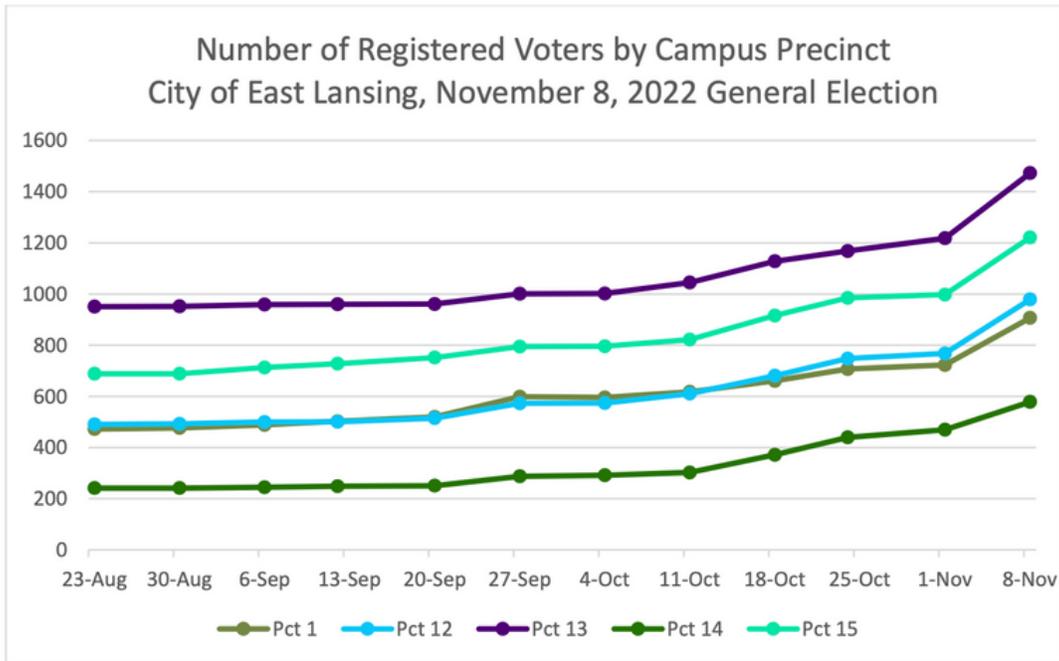

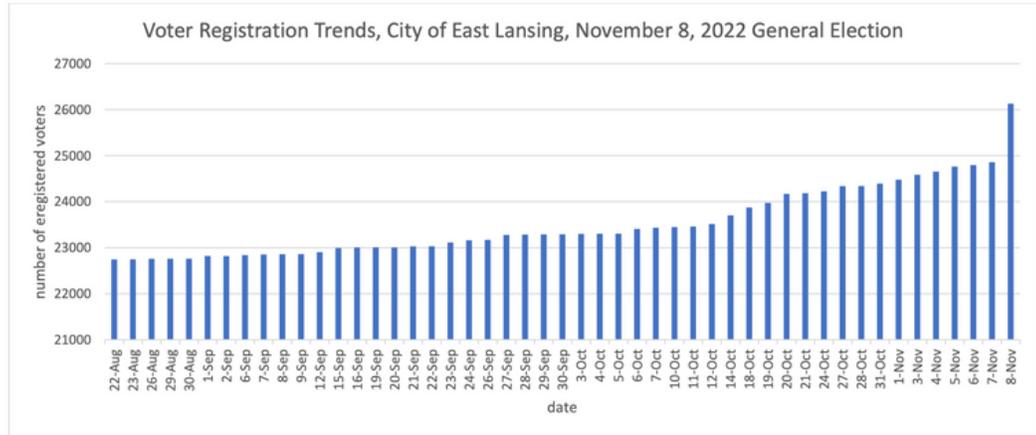

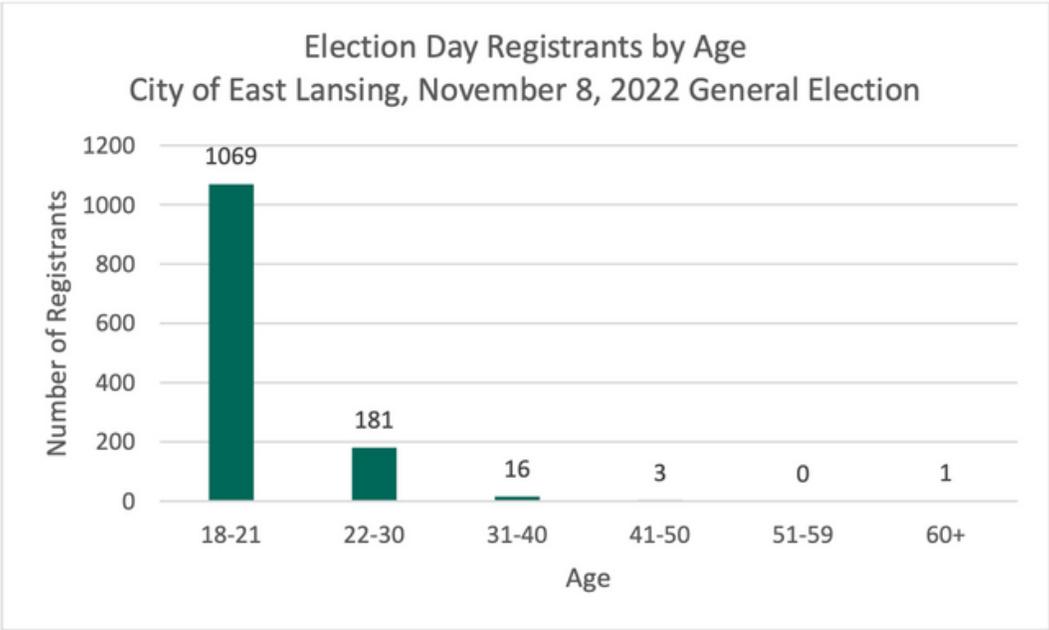

Top Successes

1. Securing a full-time democratic engagement coordinator who will continue to guide MSU's democratic engagement efforts.
2. Four weeks of on-campus satellite offices through MSU's Partnership with the East Lansing City Clerk's Office.
3. Election Day turnout & marketing to students about access to voting.

Measurement of Success

- The increase in capacity for a dedicated full-time staff member to host events, promote voting, and organize access initiatives was measured through the amplification of events we were able to host in the two weeks prior to Election day following her hiring in mid-October.
- Consistent turnout and registration of students at the on-campus satellite offices
- The turnout of students taking advantage of same-day registration on Election Day.
- Age Demographics of East Lansing Registrants

Data Provided by Jennifer Shuster, City of East Lansing Clerk

Campus Climate Factors

- The support from high-level administrators (President's Office, VP of Student Life & Engagement, etc.) allowed for the hiring of a full-time staff member increasing MSUvote's capacity. The support of these individuals at a public-facing level in communications also greatly benefitted the efforts of on-campus democratic engagement work.
- Campus having a multitude of politically-engaged registered student organizations was helpful. Several groups hosted informational sessions about the highly-discussed Proposition 3 in the state of Michigan which led to greater visibility and awareness of democratic engagement
- Board of Trustee Elections and campaigning around campus led to a great deal of election visibility.

Plan to Report to Campus Stakeholders

MSUvote releases a report to campus stakeholders outlining activities, events, and results of MSUvote in mid-February. Additionally, the NSLVE data is distributed and explained once that information becomes available.

OPPORTUNITIES

- Capacity
 - prior to hiring a full-time staff member, MSUvote had limited capacity. With the hiring of the full-time staff member, two weeks prior to the Election, capacity, and progress toward goals increased greatly.
 - Student capacity can be limiting. Students are involved in extracurriculars; hold part-time jobs and are students first and foremost. Although democratic engagement is important to many of them, they often prefer to dedicate their time to organizations that are partisan-based (MSU Republicans, MSU Democrats, etc.) and do not delve as deeply into the process.
- Partner Involvement: Partners can support overcoming the barriers listed through the promotion of democratic engagement education
- Campus Climate Impact: Allowing campaigners into residence halls created a great deal of adversity on election day, as a number of students registered with candidate groups who failed to properly submit their registrations.
